INTERNATIONAL INTERNSHIP PLACEMENTS
REASONS TO INTERN ABROAD

- Earn academic credit toward your degree while gaining crucial international and professional experience that is directly related to your goals.
- Open to students of all majors at both the graduate and undergraduate levels.
- Make your resume stand out! On average, prospective employers spend less than a minute looking through a resume. International work experience catches the eye of employers and can quickly transform an applicant with potential into someone the firm wants to hire: independent, self-motivated and experienced.
- Explore a new region of the world and experience culture through immersion.
- Develop industry contacts and references.
- Language proficiency is helpful, but NOT necessary.
INTERNSHIPS ABROAD

INTERNSHIP CREDIT

UNDERGRADUATE
The default Mason internship study abroad credit for undergraduate summer and semester programs is 6 Mason resident credits of Integrative Studies (INTS) 390 - International Internship. Coursework is obtained by an online Blackboard course, taught by a Mason faculty member, during the program. If students wish to obtain internship credit other than INTS 390, students must meet with the internship coordinator or department chair in the department from which they wish to obtain the credit. Students must then communicate with the program officer to complete the necessary paperwork to approve department-specific credit.

GRADUATE
Graduate credit may be available. Contact your Program Officer for more information.

Previously, students have been able to obtain alternate credits in the following:
- Economics (ECON) 498: Internship (6 credits)
- Global Affairs (GLOA) 495: Global Experiential Learning (6 credits)
- Conflict Analysis and Resolution (CONF) 385: International Field Experience (6 credits)
- Government (GOVT) 480: Internship (3 credits) + Government (GOVT) 398: Study Abroad (3 credits)
- Psychology (PSYC) 327: Psychology in the Community (3 credits) + Psychology (PSYC) 461: Special Topics (3 credits)
- Communication (COMM) 399: Special Topics in Communication (3 credits) + Communication (COMM) 307: Field Study in Communication (3 credits)

MASON SCHOLARSHIPS

THE JACQUEMIN FAMILY FOUNDATION EDUCATION ABROAD SCHOLARSHIP
This scholarship seeks to have students tie their global experience to their long-term career/academic goals in the application. Each year, student recipients must present to the Jacquemin family on their experience. $20,000 per year, given in $1,000 awards (10 per cycle, 20 per year).

DIVERSIFYING STUDY ABROAD TRAVEL SCHOLARSHIP
This scholarship seeks to eliminate financial barriers students encounter and to increase diversity in participation of study abroad. Students typically receive between $400 and $1,300 depending on the location of their program.

GLOBAL PERSPECTIVES SCHOLARSHIP
Open to Mason students participating in a summer or winter program. Scholarship awards range from $250-$750

MONROE “CHIP” WHITTON SCHOLARSHIP
This scholarship is available to undergraduate students only for a summer program in the UK or Ireland with Scotland receiving highest priority. $800 to one student per year.

INTERNATIONAL HORIZONS HONORS COLLEGE SCHOLARSHIPS
Made possible by a generous gift from an anonymous Honors College alumna who believes that finances should not stand in the way of a meaningful global experience, this award may be spent on study abroad expenses such as tuition, travel, and/or lodging costs. The scholarship recipient will receive up to $2000 for a semester/yearlong global experience.

SCHOLARSHIP APPLICATION PROCESS
- Login at MasonAbroad.gmu.edu and begin your application
- Complete all components of the application and statement/essays
- Selection committee selects recipients
- Recipients are notified of awards before finals
- Checks are available for pick-up around final exams preceding program term (works as a reimbursement)

SHORT TERM PROGRAMS WITH MASON FACULTY

Short-term study abroad programs are offered during winter, spring, and summer breaks and range from 2 weeks to 8 weeks. Student receive between 3 and 9 credits. Most of these popular programs are eligible for financial aid, led by Mason faculty, and cover a variety of topics. Credits are available in almost every major and can satisfy Mason Core Requirements. Short-term programs are considered an effective way to obtain international experience, especially by students who work, or have additional responsibilities that limit the amount of time they can spend abroad.

MASON KOREA

In March 2014, George Mason University opened the doors to its new international campus in Songdo, South Korea. “Mason Korea” students come from all over the world, and Mason’s Virginia students are encouraged to consider studying at the new campus and enjoy its unique global learning environment.

GLOBAL VOYAGES | CULTURAL TOURS

Global Voyages are cultural tours offered throughout the year, and not for credit. Locations and fees vary every year and airfare is usually included in the program fee. Previous destinations included Peru, Austria, the Czech Republic, Portugal, Greece, South Africa, France, Spain, Italy and others. Learn more at studyabroad.gmu.edu/culturaltours.
TRANSFER CREDIT PROGRAMS | PARTNER PROGRAMS

- Credit from a regionally accredited university
- Course work does not affect GPA

EXCHANGE PROGRAMS

Exchange programs offer the abroad experience to Mason students for the same cost as their Mason tuition while room and board is paid to the host institution. In an exchange program, the student will travel independently and live with other international students. Students must have at least 45 credits with a minimum 2.5 GPA or at least 30 credits with at least 3.0 GPA at the time of departure to participate in a Mason exchange program.

EXTERNAL STUDY ABROAD PROGRAMS

You can’t find a study abroad program that excites you? Once you have explored the various programs offered by GEO you may find you have an academic need not met by our programming. This does not mean that you cannot study abroad! Mason will allow active, degree-seeking students to participate in any accredited program and earn transfer credits toward their degree.

INTERNSHIPS ABROAD

Mason study abroad internship programs are destination-specific programs. Unlike traditional study abroad programs focusing on one particular subject, internship programs include students from different majors, working and studying in the same location. The student’s internship placement within a company relative to their area of study defines their global work experience, and determines the internship course credit the student will receive.

Early in the twentieth century, Buenos Aires, the city of fair winds, became one of the world’s great cities. By the tens of thousands, European immigrants sailed across the Atlantic to the “Paris of Latin America” looking for a better life. Money seemed no object in those days. Fueled by the great agricultural wealth that came from the heart-land of the nation, great new buildings and monuments were the order of the day. In 1908, a grand opera house opened its doors to world acclaim and became a symbol of Buenos Aires’ wealth and sophistication. By 1913, the city had Latin America’s first underground metro system in operation. The city continued growing through two world wars and a global economic crisis in the 1930s.

PERTH | AUSTRALIA

LOCATION

Curtin University is considered Western Australia’s largest, internationally recognized, and most multicultural university in the country. Ranked in the top two percent worldwide, Curtin provides its students innovative academic offerings in a number of subject fields. In addition to studying at such a renowned university, you have the opportunity live in one the most beautiful (and sunniest!) cities in the world!

PROGRAM DETAILS

PARTNER

Students interested in interning at Curtin University will enter under the Study and Service Program. Each student will find themselves thrust into a busy, yet rewarding semester filled with professional development opportunities, four (1 required, 3 chosen) academic classes to count towards their degree at Mason and the opportunity to complete service work in under-served communities. Upon arrival, students participate in “O-Week!”, otherwise known as orientation, before diving into their classes and internship experience. In addition to having 24/7 support from the CurtinLife Office, Study and Service students are also matched with individual advisors (Curtin seniors or graduate students) that offer weekly meetings to discuss academic and non-academic issues so as to best support the student and ensure they get the most out of their study abroad experience.

HOUSING

On-campus housing is available for those students that wish to immerse themselves in campus life. Housing is not included in the program cost and students will be responsible for applying for On-Campus Housing once they are accepted into the program. On-Campus Housing accommodations provide students with furnished bedrooms and shared facilities (bathrooms, kitchenettes). Please visit the housing website to learn more about what housing options are offered.

An internship in Sydney is guaranteed to be an experience unlike any other. Australia’s financial and economic center, this city down under is home to a vibrant, diverse populace, eager to innovate and compete in what has become an increasingly globalized marketplace. An international internship here allows for second-to-none experience in a culture that is as unique and diverse as any place on the planet. While indigenous people are believed to have inhabited the land that makes up modern Sydney as far back as 30,000 years ago, Sydney as we know it today is a relatively young city.

GEO has partnered with Global Experiences to provide Mason students an internship experience in Sydney, Australia. The student’s internship placement within a company relative to their area of study defines their global work experience, and determines the internship course credit the student will receive. For example, a Sydney internship program can include (but is not limited to) students majoring in business and economics, communications, marketing, accounting, IT, environmental science, tourism, global affairs, government, and graphic design.

Housing in Sydney is in a serviced apartment complex located close to central station. Students share a double room, with a person of the same gender, in a shared apartment with other students interning abroad. Each apartment is two-bedroom, two-bathroom and is fully furnished with kitchen and laundry facilities. Weekly cleaning service is included, and a gym and pool are located in the building. The residence is within distance to public transportation, cafes, and shops.

CURITIBA | BRAZIL

LOCATION

Curitiba is an important cultural, political, and economic center in Latin America. It is also one of Brazil's more modern, cosmopolitan, “green” cities, awarded in 2010 the Global Sustainable City Award–given to cities and municipalities that excel in sustainable urban development. It is a vibrant city with an international culture, attracting students from all around the world.

PROGRAM DETAILS

PARTNER

English-speaking internship placements are limited; students take a two-week intensive Portuguese language course for the first two weeks of the program. Upon completion of the course, students work five days a week for 7 weeks; a semi-intensive Portuguese language course is available during week 3. Students will complete work assignments in English; however, students with at least intermediate Portuguese language skills will benefit by being able to integrate and immerse themselves in the Portuguese-speaking environment. Students must know English or Spanish in order to succeed in tuner program. During the nine-week internship program, Brazilian Experience offers student support services in-country, such as a welcome orientation, weekly group activities, 24/7 staff support, and more.

HOUSING

Student housing is in a home stay arrangement with a Brazilian family. The home stay provides two meals per day. Students complete a home stay form (where a student may list dietary preferences, allergies, pet preferences, interests, and other criteria) through Brazilian Experience upon acceptance into the program. This helps our partner find a home stay arrangement that best suits the student.

Toronto, Canada

Location

As Canada’s economic capital, Toronto is a city with an impressive list of credentials -- the largest city in Canada, the fastest growing financial center in the G7, and one of the most dynamic, yet livable, cities in North America. With more than half its residents born outside of Canada, Toronto offers world-class arts, entertainment and cuisine drawing from cultures near and far. From film festivals to museums to professional sports franchises, the city offers something for everyone. Toronto is an excellent internship study abroad choice for students who wish to remain on the North American continent, but wish to acquire a truly international global work experience.

The Czech Republic is an ideal destination for interns looking to experience Europe through an unconventional lens. Located in the heart of Europe, the Czech Republic has a long history of both Eastern and Western influence. While aesthetically Eastern European, the Czech Republic has mirrored their Western European neighbors in economic development. This fairly new, yet highly developed nation is bustling with opportunities for international interns, while providing a unique culture to experience in their free time. Whatever your field of interest may be, an internship in the Czech Republic is sure to provide a unique, and affordable, experience in Europe.

According to estimates, over one million refugees and migrants entered the European Union since 2015. This tidal wave of migration has been caused by wars in Syria, Afghanistan and Iraq, poverty in states such as Kosovo and Albania, and unrest and uncertainty in a number of other states outside Europe. At the same time, a number of factors have attracted these migrants to Europe, including jobs, safety, and family unification. The refugees’ plight has sparked an unparalleled humanitarian crisis which has not been seen since the World War II leading to an ongoing political turmoil with far reaching implications beyond Europe’s borders. The crisis has led to new political and social divisions causing realignments within the Europe Union, and leading to an intense debate on how Europe should handle the crisis both on its external borders and inside the continent. The Brexit vote is a case in point.

India’s booming economy makes it a hub of industry and business activity, while its unique culture and rich history have made it one of the most influential countries in the world. Interns who are interested in immersing themselves in a culture that is millennia-old while gaining experience in a dynamic, emerging market would do well to consider India as the destination for their internship. And those who wish to do some exploring while abroad will find a plethora of options: the diversity of India from coast to coast is immense, as is the opportunity to experience new sights, sounds, and tastes. This program is an excellent choice for anyone looking to explore a wide variety of cultures and landscapes as India is an incredibly diverse country, all while gaining necessary work experience for their career field.

Dublin is the European headquarters for many of the world’s largest technology corporations and is very supportive in fostering the growth of smaller companies. The city is a great bustling, business hub and is a dynamic place to share ideas, create new ventures, and grow existing businesses. This makes an international internship in Dublin an ideal location. Though it may be brimming with Irish culture and history, Dublin is very much an international city bustling with people from all over the world and featuring multinational companies offering terrific opportunities in entrepreneurship, marketing, non-profits, and law. Dublin is a fantastic city for both first time travelers and seasoned veterans, and is within close proximity to the rest of Europe for your weekend travels.

ISRAEL & PALESTINE

LOCATION

George Mason University in association with Global Knowledge LLC, offers students the chance to live and work in the midst of this ongoing conflict, to develop their own opinions and knowledge by utilizing the rare opportunity to agree, disagree, and question some of the most influential narratives of the conflict as presented by moderates and extremists on both sides. From settlements to refugee camps, from sacred sites to high-security areas, from segregated communities to those coexisting in peace, students see it all.

PROGRAM DETAILS

PARTNER

Through this intensive 9-week program, students experience the conflict first-hand and gain a better understanding of the intricacies of life in Israel and Palestine. Starting with a week-long seminar in Jerusalem, students will meet with leading Israeli and Palestinian experts, representatives of various Non-Governmental Organizations (NGO’s), peace activists, private sector and government officials and hear their perspectives on the dynamics of Israeli- Palestinian relations. Numerous site visits will also be made to settlements in the territories, refugee camps, government offices, and cultural institutions. Following the seminar, students are sent to live and work in various locations around Israel and the West Bank. At the very end of the program, students reconvene in Tel Aviv to reflect on their experiences and what they have learned.

HOUSING

During the week-long seminar at the start of the program, students will stay together in a hotel. Throughout the internship portion of the program, most students will live with families in homestays.

When one thinks of the Italian Renaissance, images of Leonardo da Vinci, Michelangelo, and Botticelli musing in the hills of Tuscany immediately come to mind. Fittingly, Florence is known as “The Cradle of the Renaissance”, and the city still retains this charm and people liken it to walking through a living museum. This city is home to iconic architectural and cultural sites such as the Duomo de Firenze, the Palazzo Pitti, the home of Dante, the Piazzale degli Uffizi, and the Ponte Vecchio. A fashion, art history, and culinary capitol of the world, internships in Florence are a must for those looking for a true internship experience in these fields. From an internship perspective, Florence offers unparalleled opportunities for fashion, museum and gallery internship, art history, along with business, marketing, and hospitality internships.

If you’re looking for a slow pace and an “old world” Mediterranean lifestyle, look elsewhere. While Rome is Italy’s capital and home for national politics, Milan is indisputably the economic capital and financial center. Like any big city full of busy, hard working people, Milan is not short on fun things to see and do, as well as delicious traditional Italian dining. Use its efficient public transportation to traverse this vast city while exploring its seemingly endless museums and historic churches and cathedrals. Being the business hub of Italy, many conventions, fairs, and trade shows take place in the city throughout the year, so it is a fantastic place for professional networking. The dynamic city of Milan is fast-paced, full of ideas, money, fashion, food and glamor. If you’re seeking an exciting internship that will dive deep into the world of fashion business, tourism, advertising, and sports management, an internship in Milan is what you’re looking for. Simply put, Milan is to Italy as New York City is to America. It’s the driving force of Italian design, business and finance. Constantly looking towards the future, Milan is where ideas are cultivated, and revolutionary trends are created. In terms of international internship locations, Milan is a great differentiating choice for your resume, as you learn to work in the Italian business culture, develop language skills and make connections in one of the world’s great global business cities.

ABOUT

Most summer study abroad programs are based in a classroom. Not at Massey University. You will travel through some of the planet’s most spectacular scenery, intern with a foreign organization, and see parts of New Zealand open only to locals, all while earning 6-8 U.S. semester credits over your summer break. The international experience you gain over these six weeks will make an impressive difference in your resume or graduate school application. The-overall experience you gain over these six weeks will make an impressive difference in your resume or graduate school application. Massey University’s internship track programs, which are unlike any other in New Zealand, combine a two-week national expedition with a four-week internship.

Massey University has created four “industry tracks” students can choose from for an internship experience. Students interested in this program may only choose from one track to apply for the summer program. The majors listed under each track are the best fits, but these aren’t the only majors Massey will consider. For example, Pre-Vet students who have an interest in native wildlife are welcome to apply for the Agriculture and Environment track. The Disaster Risk and Emergency Management track has health care placements for Nursing and Pre-Med majors. If you are unsure as to where your major would fall or if it’s not listed, please speak to your program officer in GEO before submitting an application.

While admission into each track is highly competitive, for those students accepted, they will find themselves being presented the opportunity to gain first-hand experience in a country completely unique in both its economic and environmental infrastructure.

*Please note, for Mason students from a non-native English speaking country, you will be required by Massey University to meet the English language requirements. If you have any questions about this, please meet with your program officer in GEO before completing this application.
